BREAKING NEWS

THE MOST IMPORTANT WINE STORY IN THE USA TODAY

America's Best Selling Oregon Chardonnay

For the first time in the history of our country, we have been able to grow appropriate clones of Chardonnay in an appropriate climate.

NO WOOD

- No Malolactic Fermentation
- Clean, Crisp & Delicious
- Perfect with Food

The Oregon wine industry worked for 15 years to bring Burgundian clones of Chardonnay into the states. Until now, almost all American Chardonnay has been one clone developed at UC Davis for late ripening in California.

Today, viticulturists believe that beyond the advantage of Oregon's long, warm days and cool nights, the latitude creates an accelerated rate of change of day length in the spring and fall. Certain varieties thrive with these conditions if the clones are appropriate for the latitude. family: Pinot Noir, Pinot Gris and Pinot Blanc as is evidenced by the fact that it is rare that these varieties are grown south of Burgundy or Switzerland. Human beings are emancipated from nature because we have electricity, but above the 45th parallel even people are surprised and comment about the change of day length around the equinoxes.
